22 February 2018

Please note, if you have already received this email, accepted the invitation and registered for the conference, no further action is required.

Dear Azadeh Amini:

Thank you for submitting an abstract for the ISEV2018 Annual Meeting. We are pleased to inform you that your abstract titled "To study anti tau antibody loading and neuronal uptake efficiency of Human bone marrow mesenchymal stem cells derived extracellular vesicles" has been accepted for a Poster Presentation.

Presenting Author: The deadline for accepting the invitation to present your abstract has been extended until 26 February 2018. We are also pleased to extend the early registration rate to the named Presenting Author only, until 26 February 2018. Please click this link to accept your invitation to present. Any abstracts without a registered Presenting Author will not be published in the abstract book and will be removed from the program.

Details regarding your session, presentation date and time will be sent at a later date.

This year, ISEV will again be offering Young Investigator Scholarships. Apply for an ISEV2018 Young Investigator Scholarship here.

On behalf of the International Organizing Committee, I extend my congratulations and look forward to seeing you in Barcelona!

Best regards,

Juan Falcon, PhD

Chair, ISEV2018 International Organizing Committee
