Dear Dr. Esmail Riahi,

Thank you for submitting an abstract to the 41st Annual Meeting of the Japan Neuroscience Society to be held from July 26th to 29th in Kobe, Japan. We are pleased to inform you that your abstract has been accepted as a result of strict peer review. As stated on our website, your abstract might not be accepted as the presentation style you aimed because of the limited space of the venue and so on. Detailed information for the preparing method of the presentation data will be posted on our website about one month before the Annual Meeting.

Details are as follows:

Abstract registration number: 4107100015
Presenting author: Esmail Riahi
Abstract title: High-frequency deep brain stimulation of the lateral hypothalamic area prevents morphine reinforcement
* Please confirm your Abstract title.

Presentation style: Oral
Program number: 20-10e2-3
Session title: Stimulation and Excitation
Venue: Kobe Convention Center
Room: Room 10 (3B, 3F, Hall No.2 Building, Kobe International Exhibition Hall)
Date: July 27, 2018
Time: 17:00 - 18:00

Allotted time: 10 minutes for presentation, 5 minutes for Q and A
Presentation language: English

* Please place the information regarding Conflicts of interest (COI) either at the top or the last page of your slides.

More information regarding your oral presentation can be viewed at <http://www.neuroscience2018.jnss.org/en/guideline.html>

The information will be updated around June, 2018.

Registered and on-site participants from overseas need to pick up a name card, a registration fee receipt, and a convention program at the registration desk at the venue.

For domestic residents, a meeting badge (name card), an exchange ticket for a meeting program, and a registration fee receipt will be mailed to you around the beginning of July after you complete your payment.

If you have any inquiries, please do not hesitate to contact the secretariat.
We look forward to seeing you in Kobe soon.

Sincerely yours,

Hitoshi Okazawa, President
41st Annual Meeting of the Japan Neuroscience Society

Takeshi Iwatsubo, Program Committee Chair
