To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to confirm that Dr Seyed-Farzad Mohammadi of Farabi Eye Hospital, Tehran, Iran has been invited to participate in the 10th General Assembly (10GA) of the International Agency for the Prevention of Blindness (IAPB) on 27-30 October 2016 in Durban, South Africa.

IAPB's 10GA is the premier global event discussing public health issues related to blindness and visual impairment. Catering to every eye health professional – ophthalmologists, optometrists, other eye health professionals, development and public health experts, key opinion leaders, procurement specialists, CEOs, eye care equipment manufacturers – 10GA will be the biggest event in the eye health calendar in 2016.

As part of the 10GA Scientific Programme, Dr Seyed-Farzad Mohammadi has been invited to present the following scientific posters for the following abstracts:

- Critical appraisal of the WHO Eye Care Services Assessment Tool (ECSAT)
- Estimation of cataract surgical rate by previous years' history
- Refractive surgery, the most cost-saving technique in refractive errors correction
- Economic and epidemiological burden of refractive errors correction methods: a patient perspective

On behalf of the 10GA Programme Committee, I greatly appreciate the contribution of time, effort and experience that presenting authors are providing towards the success of the Assembly.

Yours faithfully,

Peter Ackland
Chief Executive, IAPB
On behalf of the 10GA Programme Committee
